

Guidelines for Training the 3MS Test Administrators
And
Answer Keys for 3MS Quizzes

Potential administrators of the 3MS Test should first study the Manual for its administration and scoring. Then they should be examined on their mastery of the testing procedures and scoring rules with the 24-item Quiz, using either Form A or Form B.

If an examinee has made three or more errors, ask him or her to study the Manual more thoroughly, and to take the quiz again one or more days later. Alternate the use of Form A and Form B for the same individual, until the person passes.

If there are two or fewer errors, just inform the examinee of the correct answers and no re-examination will be needed.

The quizzes should be administered in an office or similar setting. The quiz booklets should be turned in together with the answer sheets. Each returned booklet should be checked to make sure that the examinee has not left any markings in it. Destroy any booklet that has been marked and replace it with a new one.
